3. Verified statement

An adequate showing of the cause of the delay, and that the entire delay in filing the required reply from the due date for the reply until the filing of a grantable petition under 37 CFR 1.137(a) was unintentional follows.

At the request of Advanced Interconnect Technologies Limited (AIT), a provisional patent application, Serial No. 60/449,049, was filed with the United States Patent and Trademark Office on February 21, 2003 (TAB 1). A foreign filing license was granted on April 3, 2003.

A follow-up letter was sent to AIT on October 8, 2003 (TAB 2) asking whether any US non-provisional patent applications or foreign patent applications based on the provisional patent application were to be filed (TAB 2).

On October 21, 2003, AIT authorized the filing of a PCT International Application designating all States including the United States (TAB 3).

The PCT application, serial number PCT/US2004/004676 (TAB 4) was duly filed on February 17, 2004. Wiggin and Dana's computerized docketing system automatically set August 21, 2005 as the due date for 30 month national phase filing into the United States and foreign countries. (TAB 5).

On April 26, 2005, instructions were received from AIT to national phase file the application in China, Japan, Korea, Philippines and the EPO. (TAB 3). US national phase filing was understood from the October 21, 2003 instructions (TAB 3).

On July 21, 2005, national phase filing of all foreign (e.g. non-US) applications was completed. Neither the Docket Coordinator nor the attorney responsible for the US national phase filing remember filing a US national phase patent application. If, as described below, such an application was not filed, then inadvertently, and without deceptive intent, Wiggin and Dana's Docket Coordinator entered the July 21, 2005 completion date for US national phase filing as well (TAB 5). As a direct consequence of this action, the requirement to file in the United States before August 21, 2005 was deleted from the computerized docketing record and apparently never completed.

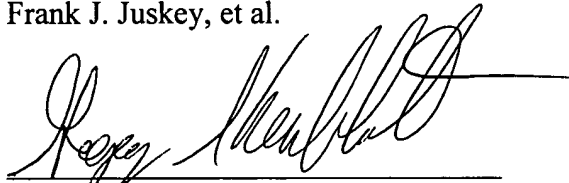

In October 2005, Timothy Olson, the Wiggin and Dana attorney responsible for this patent application family left Wiggin and Dana. During a review of AIT patent assets subsequent to Mr. Olson's departure, Gregory S. Rosenblatt, a Wiggin and Dana attorney, noted there was no entry for a US non-provisional patent application (TAB 3). Mr. Rosenblatt promptly questioned Mr. Olson and the Docket Coordinator who could not remember if a US non-provisional patent application had been filed. Mr. Rosenblatt then searched for a non-provisional patent application file and could not locate such a file. The Wiggin and Dana Deposit Account with the USPTO was also reviewed to determine if a filing fee for a US non-provisional application had been deducted. No such deduction entered.

Accordingly, it is the conclusion of Gregory S. Rosenblatt that a US national phase filing based on international application PCT/US2004/004676 was unintentionally and without deceptive intent most likely not filed by the August 21, 2005 30-month national phase deadline.

Entry of the attached delayed Request to enter the US national phase is respectfully requested.

I hereby declare that all statements made herein of my own knowledge are true and that all statements made on information and belief are believed to be true; and further that these statements were made with the knowledge that willful false statements and the like so made are punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both, under Section 1001 of Title 18 of the United States Code, and that such willful false statements may jeopardize the validity of the application, any patent issuing thereon, or any patent to which this verified statement is directed.

Respectfully submitted,
Frank J. Juskey, et al.

GRANTED

The applicant has been granted a license under 35 U.S.C. 184, if the phrase "IF REQUIRED, FOREIGN FILING LICENSE GRANTED" followed by a date appears on this form. Such licenses are issued in all applications where the conditions for issuance of a license have been met, regardless of whether or not a license may be required as set forth in 37 CFR 5.15. The scope and limitations of this license are set forth in 37 CFR 5.15(a) unless an earlier license has been issued under 37 CFR 5.15(b). The license is subject to revocation upon written notification. The date indicated is the effective date of the license, unless an earlier license of similar scope has been granted under 37 CFR 5.13 or 5.14.

This license is to be retained by the licensee and may be used at any time on or after the effective date thereof unless it is revoked. This license is automatically transferred to any related applications(s) filed under 37 CFR 1.53(d). This license is not retroactive.

The grant of a license does not in any way lessen the responsibility of a licensee for the security of the subject matter as imposed by any Government contract or the provisions of existing laws relating to espionage and the national security or the export of technical data. Licensees should apprise themselves of current regulations especially with respect to certain countries, of other agencies, particularly the Office of Defense Trade Controls, Department of State (with respect to Arms, Munitions and Implements of War (22 CFR 121-128)); the Office of Export Administration, Department of Commerce (15 CFR 370.10 (j)); the Office of Foreign Assets Control, Department of Treasury (31 CFR Parts 500+) and the Department of Energy.

NOT GRANTED

No license under 35 U.S.C. 184 has been granted at this time, if the phrase "IF REQUIRED, FOREIGN FILING LICENSE GRANTED" DOES NOT appear on this form. Applicant may still petition for a license under 37 CFR 5.12, if a license is desired before the expiration of 6 months from the filing date of the application. If 6 months has lapsed from the filing date of this application and the licensee has not received any indication of a secrecy order under 35 U.S.C. 181, the licensee may foreign file the application pursuant to 37 CFR 5.15(b).

CONVENTION FOREIGN FILING DEADLINE: FEBRUARY 21, 2004

Dear Mr. Huskins:

We are writing to inquire whether you wish to file any foreign patent applications corresponding to the above-identified United States application.

If a corresponding foreign patent application is filed within one year of the earliest United States filing date that foreign application will receive the benefit of that earlier United States filing date in most foreign countries. In other words, that foreign patent application will for most reasons be considered filed on the U.S. filing date. However, corresponding foreign patent applications filed after one year of the U.S. filing date do not receive that benefit, and in that case, it is possible a patent issuing from that earlier filed U.S. Patent Application (as well as any other intervening references) may become prior art and bar patent protection in certain foreign countries. Therefore, we generally recommend to foreign file within one year of the U.S. filing date.

Two routes exist for foreign filing patent applications. One route is the individual country (e.g., Japan) or region (e.g. Europe) filing. The second way is to first file a PCT Patent Application and later file the national phase patent applications in the individual countries or regions (either 18 or 30 months after the first U.S. filing date). If you decide to foreign file, the individual country route may be advantageous if you believe the claimed invention is currently commercially important and it is important to obtain foreign patent protection as quickly as possible. The PCT application may be advantageous if the commercial importance of the claimed invention and/or the patentability of the claimed invention is currently uncertain and deference of foreign filing costs is an important factor.

October 8, 2003

It should be noted that the PCT application route generally results in later issued foreign patents (and thus shorter patent terms). Furthermore, the PCT Application route involves an overall greater cost than the individual country route cost because both a PCT application as well as the individual country application have to be filed and prosecuted. Also, please note that the PCT application route can be used for most countries, but not all countries.

In any event, you should recognize that foreign filing patent filing in some countries cannot be done because of certain events that happened before the U.S. filing date. For example, certain public uses, disclosures to others or sales of the claimed invention may bar foreign patent protection in some countries while not barring patent protection in the United States. Please indicate on the instruction sheet any commercialization or the like before the U.S. filing date events that may adversely effect obtaining patent protection in foreign countries.

Accordingly, if you wish to foreign file the above-noted U.S. patent application and obtain the benefits of the U.S. filing date, would you please so indicate on the attached sheet and then return that sheet to me before November 8, 2003. If your decision is not to foreign file, would you so indicate on the attached sheet and return it to me before November 8, 2003.

If you wish to file by the individual country or region route, please also indicate in the box provided which countries the application should be filed in. If you select European Patent Application, please select the countries in that region that you want the application. We will confirm your decision by return mail and provide you with the names of our foreign patent associates (i.e., foreign patent firms that file and prosecute applications in those countries) that will handle your case, as well as an estimate of the out-of-pocket costs involved for filing, prosecution and maintenance in each selected country or region.

We expect that the initial filing costs to be approximately $5,000 - $7,000 to file a regional application in the European Patent Office and approximately $5,500 - $7,000 to file an Application in Japan and approximately $2,500 - $3,500 for every other country in the attached country list. These filing costs do not include prosecution costs or the fees for converting the European Application into the respective European national patents or the annual maintenance fees for each country. The prosecution costs are very difficult to predict since each case is treated differently. As an example, a breakdown of the filing and prosecution fees and other fees in Europe and Japan are also shown in attached memoranda. The current maintenance fees for each major industrial country are also shown on another attached list.

We require a retainer from your company for that estimated amount before foreign filing because of the large disbursements due foreign patent offices and foreign patent firms for their work in handling these matters.

If you wish to foreign file, but want to defer the decision on where to file, we can make a PCT filing for selected countries (see attached country list). The average estimated cost of the preparation and filing of a PCT application is approximately $5,000 (which would include the Wiggin & Dana attorney's and paralegal's fees as well as PCT filing and the PCT Demand costs). The filing of the PCT application followed by the filing of Demand will allow you to defer the decision on where to file your foreign applications for up to 18 more months. We will also require a retainer from you for filing a PCT Application for this estimated amount.

If you wish, please call Gregory Rosenblatt at 203-498-4566 to discuss any specific foreign filing issues in more detail or to provide you with specific information as to any particular country of interest.

Sincerely,

Lucille Gonsalves
